

Editor's Comment:

I reviewed the manuscript and have a question below:

Telfairia occidentalis is a medicinal plant. This plant extract causes cell toxicity by inducing chromosomal aberrations and micronuclei formation. This indicates that consumption of this extract can reduce the cell growth of living organisms. Thus it is not good for health and can be listed as a toxic plant and not a medicinal plant.

Editor's Details:

Dr. Sahdeo Prasad
Texas Tech University Health Sciences Center, USA.