

Editor's Comment:

Regarding the manuscript named "A Study on Savings Behaviour in Households of Small Farmers in Raipur District (Chhattisgarh)", the author/authors stated that they made the corrections suggested by the referees. However, in the original and revised text, a significant part of the sources included in the references section are still not cited in the text. Although there are 32 sources in the references section, only four of them are cited in the text. This situation does not comply with scientific writing rules. The article cannot be published in its current form.
