Optional/General comments	Overall, I found the manuscript to be insightful and well-written. It discusses the historical context of agricultural revolutions and the ongoing transition towards Agriculture 4.0, drawing parallels with the industrial sector's evolution. It also provides insights into the potential future implications of Industry 4.0 in agriculture, which is very informative. However, one area that I believe could be strengthened is the presentation of the methodology used in the study. While the paper thoroughly discusses the concept of Agriculture 4.0 and its potential implications, it would greatly benefit from a clearer exposition of the research methodology employed. By incorporating a more explicit description of the methodology, the manuscript would not only meet scholarly standards but also provide readers with a deeper insight into the rigor of the study. I believe that clarifying this aspect would greatly enhance the overall quality and impact of the paper.
