

Editor's Comment:

The manuscript (2024/AFSJ/116569) is received well by authors, therefore, I recommend the article to be accepted for publishing in the journal before some corrections.

Comments/suggestions:

1. The study aim should be improved and clearly indicated in abstract section
2. add background and aim of the study at end of the introduction section
3. highlights the description of procured chemicals and reagents (including brands, country origin etc. )
4. use SI units throughout the manuscript
5. the details of use instruments should be indicated
6. results and discussion are ok
7. rewrite conclusions in more depth based on the study outcomes.
8. The statistical significance difference should be indicated in Figure 1.
