Minor REVISION comments 1. Is language/English quality of the article suitable for scholarly communications?	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> - The manuscript lacks proper organization and appears to be written in a haphazard manner. - The manuscript is important but the significance of the study is not mentioned properly. - The problem statement is not noted. - The manuscript lacks introduction, literature review, proper method, and discussion. - The results are unclear and ambiguous. - All references are out of date. To provide a valid scale, the author can review related articles containing a suitable framework and guideline to develop the scale. Although the following references are not very new, I think they can assist the author in improving his work. Shahsavari, Z., & Tan, B. H. (2012). Developing a questionnaire to measure students' attitudes toward the course blog. Turkish Online Journal of Distance Education, 13(1), 200-210. DeVellis, R. F. (2nd ed.). (2003).
