

Editor's Comment:

Dear the JSRR Editor Ms. Ruma Bag,

Thank you very much for offering me the opportunity to make the final editorial decision for the following manuscript:

Long memory Time-Series model (ARFIMA) based modelling of jute prices in the Samsi market of Malda district, West Bengal

Ms_JSRR_116647-v1

1. All variables in formulas have to be collectively accompanied by a Table in which the input data of the specific study took place. The formulas cannot stand alone, without data utilized to support the conducted analysis and findings.
2. Due to plethora of acronyms a nomenclature Table of copresenting them, together their full names to be given.
3. The Conclusions section is an autonomous main section, it cannot be part of section 3. Results and Discussion.

In the concluding remarks authors are recommended to succinctly outline the key-aspects and the generalization prospects of their findings, towards similar research contexts worldwide. 2-3 concluding sentences are adequate.

Language quality is satisfactory for scientific publication.

It can be published if the aforementioned minor revisions.

Score 7.5/10
