I trust this message finds you well. Thank you for reaching out to me regarding the manuscript titled "Studies on nutrient use efficiency in short duration red gram (cajanuscajan (L.) Millsp.) Varieties under site-specific nutrient management techniques" submitted to the Asian Journal of Soil Science and Plant Nutrition.

I am pleased to inform you that I have decided to accept the manuscript for publication in the journal. However, I did notice that the revised version I received was disorganized and in a haphazard condition. Considering that the original manuscript was well-structured, I assume this is a technical error that needed to be rectified before publication.

I commend the authors for their valuable work and the rigorous efforts taken during the peer review process. I am confident that this contribution will be well-received by the journal's readership.
