

Editor's Comment:

I am writing to provide the editorial decision on the manuscript entitled "Unlocking Nutritional Potential: Multi-OMICS Strategies for Enhancing Millet Nutritional Traits" for publication in the Journal of Advances in Biology & Biotechnology.

After a thorough review of the manuscript and the comments provided by the two reviewers, I appreciate their insightful comments. I confirmed that the authors adequately addressed the reviewers' concerns.

However, I would like to highlight a few points:

1. Authors must include a declaration regarding any potential competing interests.
2. The section on author contributions is currently missing.
3. The citation of bibliographic references does not meet the requirements of the journal.
4. Table number 1 is not clear
5. the figures are not numbered

Overall, the content of the manuscript is precise, clear, coherent and complies with the editorial standards of the journal. I deem the manuscript suitable for publication.
