

Editor's Comment:

The research addresses a subject of practical concern and looks correctly conducted. Some relevant suggestions of the Reviewers have been accounted for by the Authors. Yet, two points rightly underlined by one Reviewer remain to be considered by the Authors, the second one especially important:

- 1) Please, provide key words different from the words used in the title
- 2) The statistical procedures implemented in the study remain to be described in the Methods section

These two points ought to be addressed before I can give a sound advice regarding the revised manuscript

Once this will be done, I consider that I will provide a positive advice for publishing in ARJA.

Editor's Details:

Dr. Jean Beguinot
Research Associate, University of Bourgogne, France.