Please write a few sentences regarding the importance of this manuscript for the scientific community. Why do you like (or dislike) this manuscript? A minimum of 3-4 sentences may be required for this part.	The paper focuses on the relevance of food in food security, with the economy playing a critical influence in households' ability to purchase food. Food security remains a global phenomenon, as vulnerable households around the world continue to face food insecurity. Many studies on this phenomenon have found that socioeconomic constraints are the most significant barriers to low-income families and other vulnerable groups. This paper interests me because it emphasizes the importance of food not only in human health but also in overall human function. To reach the Sustainable Development Goals' zero hunger target, additional research is required to identify relevant variables and develop long-term solutions to food insecurity. To do this, a thematic review about food security for the past five years must be conducted to highlight the existing gaps that have to be explored and questions that will reveal the links of other factors or potential variables.
Is the title of the article suitable? (If not please suggest an alternative title)	I find the title quite interesting. It can capture the interest of the readers as it speaks about the essence of food and the shocks of the economy that trigger food security.
Is the abstract of the article comprehensive? Do you suggest the addition (or deletion) of some points in this section? Please write your suggestions here.	In the abstract of the paper, I think it is the rule of thumb to state the purpose and indicate the number of articles reviewed from other reliable journals. Include the results in the abstract, the limitations, and the implications for future research. The keywords must be at least 4 to 6 words from your principal topics.
Are subsections and structure of the manuscript appropriate?	To clearly understand the totality of the paper, it must include the Introduction, Methodology, Results and Discussion, and Conclusions.
Please write a few sentences regarding the scientific correctness of this manuscript. Why do you think that this manuscript is scientifically robust and technically sound? A minimum of 3-4 sentences may be required for this part.	This thematic review on food is greatly fascinating because it adds to the body of knowledge about food security, which is still a relevant and prevalent daily challenge. This review is significant to identify prevalent gaps and patterns and elaborate further on the topic of food security, and additional studies are being undertaken utilizing a variety of approaches and factors. In the final section, it summarizes key aspects concerning the impact of globalization, politics, and so on, urging future academics to investigate these emerging factors in order to generate new information.
Are the references sufficient and recent? If you have suggestions of additional references, please mention them in the review form.	https://www.frontiersin.org/journals/sustainable-food-systems/articles/10.3389/fsufs.2022.987853/full https://jamba.org.za/index.php/jamba/article/view/1210/2408 https://www.sciencedirect.com/science/article/pii/S0195666324000059
Minor REVISION comments Is the language/English quality of the article suitable for scholarly communications?	The wording utilized is actually rather decent. The study is understandable to average readers because it does not employ technical terms. However, spelling and punctuation rules must be followed. When citing another source or author in a same paragraph, do not use the same connectors.
Optional/General comments	Include the important sections of the paper to give more information, clarity, and transparency about the process. Use the APA format 7th edition for referencing.
