

Editor's Comment:

1. The subject reported in this manuscript is of major concern today: reduce waste, energy production, environmental sustainability. The research on optimizing briquetting processes for rice straw and contributes to the advancement of biofuel technologies.
2. The title is suitable and reflects the content of the manuscript.
3. The abstract is comprehensive but more data should be included such as values for pressure, temperature, and moisture content.
4. In general, the manuscript is well-structured and it follows a logical progression. Some repetition should be avoided.
5. The manuscript is scientifically correct and the analysis is appropriate, results are well presented which support the conclusions.
6. The references are sufficient.
7. The language quality is acceptable for scholarly communication. A few minor errors can be easily corrected after careful reading.
8. The manuscript has quality and merits publication

Editor's Details:

Prof. Manuel T. Oliveira(Retd.)
Universidade Trás-os-Montes e Alto Douro (UTAD), Portugal.