Consider including more recent sources (within the last 4 years) to strengthen the theoretical framework. • Comment 2: Paper contribution must be well addressed in the introduction section. • Comment 3: I recommend including a brief comparative summary table for the related work section in the manuscript. This table will provide a clear and concise overview of the key features, approaches, and findings of the most relevant studies (last 3 years). • Comment 4: a brief description for the future work should be included by the end of the conclusions. • Comment 5: This study lacks to charts, schemes, comparative tables, all of these must be added the work.
