

Editor's Comment:

This scientific research has focused on understanding the relationship between antihypertensive drugs and stroke risk in elderly patients to determine if certain medications offer advantages or disadvantages in preventing stroke. This is a very good study from the clinician, general physicians, cardiologist, Neurologist and researcher point of view.

With due consideration, the decision on the manuscript is Accepted.

Editor's Details:

Prof. Abha Chandra
Dean, Integral Institute of Medical Sciences & Research, Integral University, India.