

Editor's Comment:

Topic is very interesting but it is addressed in a really too superficial way.

The changes with the previous version are almost irrelevant.

The paper could have been more descriptive and with interesting hopes, suggestions, effects, consequences, relations ...

The aspects related to the cross-correlation between the variables are not explored in depth and this also impacts the scientific approach.

Even if I would recommend an effective revision of paper, it could still be published as it is structured.
