At the time of the second submission, the manuscript does not meet the minimum criteria for publication. Most of the comments were not addressed. For example, there is a lack of information on the current ongoing research (carried by the authors), typos and not proper use of English, lack of criticism on the devices' application, and finally lack of adequate bibliography. I had pointed several comments in the first review, but they were not addressed, despite the authors claimed the contrary.
