PART 1: Review Comments

Compulsory REVISION comments	Reviewer's comment	Author's Feedback (Please correct the manuscript and highlight that part in the manuscript. It is mandatory that authors should write his/her feedback here)
Please write a few sentences regarding the importance of this manuscript for the scientific community. Why do you like (or dislike) this manuscript? A minimum of 3-4 sentences may be required for this part.	This manuscript would critically be very important to the scientific world, as it investigates the influence of various pulsing solutions on the post-harvest quality of cold-stored rose cut flowers in this case, the Bordeaux cultivar. Thus, the findings are a contribution to floriculture because they elucidate how shelf life of roses could be extended and aesthetic quality maintained, which is of great importance for both commercial and ornamental purposes.
Is the title of the article suitable? (If not please suggest an alternative title)	The article title is suitable, while some grammatical corrections are needed to be done by the author "Polypropylene packed ten days cold stored rose cut flowers cv. Bordeaux influenced by different pulsing solution."
Is the abstract of the article comprehensive? Do you suggest the addition (or deletion) of some points in this section? Please write your suggestions here.	Yes, It is suggested to do some grammatical corrections
Are subsections and structure of the manuscript appropriate?	Yes
Please write a few sentences regarding the scientific correctness of this manuscript. Why do you think that this manuscript is scientifically robust and technically sound? A minimum of 3-4 sentences may be required for this part.	Preservation of the freshness of flowers with the use of packaging materials, such as polypropylene, can gain valuable information for post-harvest physiology. This manuscript is appreciated because it is practically relevant and could optimize flower storage techniques, although further studies may broaden its application for other varieties of roses.
Are the references sufficient and recent? If you have suggestions of additional references, please mention them in the review form.	Yes
