A minimum of 3-4 sentences may be required for this part.	The text demonstrates a good understanding of relevant concepts however you poorly make an attempt to build a logical connection between the concepts. Additionally I find the sampling methodology odd and confusing. At the moment the sampling and the inconsistencies with numbers does not really give me a lot of confidence. There should be enough information provided (along with tests for survey bias) for me to be convinced that this is a reliable, representative and robust sample. At the moment I am not convinced.
