

Editor's Comment:

The manuscript can be accepted for publication after editing.

For example, there is a reference at the text (page 3) saying "Therefore, graduates' employability has become an issue that is not easily ignored in the global economy" (Misra Khurana, 2017).

There is no need of the " and it should be Misra & Khurana. The reference at the end of the text is not right based on the APA style.

Additionally authors use many references up to 2020. There is a need for further recent references.

The colour at the tables need to be deleted.
