Compulsory REVISION comments	Reviewer's comment	Author's Feedback (Please correct the manuscript and highlight that part in the manuscript. It is mandatory that authors should write his/her feedback here)
Is the manuscript important for scientific community? (Please write few sentences regarding this manuscript to justify your answer)	Considering the importance of preserving nature and saving the environment from pollution, naturally, the significance of the presented manuscript for the scientific community is quite important
Is the title of the article suitable? (If not please suggest an alternative title)	Yes
Is the abstract of the article comprehensive?	This review, as the authors themselves say, aims to raise awareness of this particular local soil amendment. But it would have been better if the authors had talked more about the role and involvement of earthworms in the processing of both organic and inorganic waste.
Are subsections and structure of the manuscript appropriate?	Yes
Do you think the manuscript is scientifically correct? (Please write few sentences regarding this manuscript to justify your answer)	In our opinion, an interesting study has been conducted, which requires continuation, to clarify some details. In particular, to study plastic's influence on earthworms' life activity. For example, the quantitative assessment of the number of earthworms during the experiment.
Are the references sufficient and recent? If you have suggestion of additional references, please mention in the review form.	Yes, the references are sufficient and recent
Minor REVISION comments Is language/English quality of the article suitable for scholarly communications?	Yes
Optional/General comments	Given that soil provides the majority of humanity's food, it makes sense that research into earthworm life is becoming more and more popular worldwide. The function of earthworms in enhancing and recovering the soil cover is attracting the attention of an increasing number of scientists. This essay is among the best illustrations of this strategy, in our opinion.
