Please write a few sentences regarding the importance of this manuscript for the scientific community. A minimum of 3-4 sentences may be required for this part.	Significant of this manuscript for the scientific community as it highlights the impact of modern agricultural interventions on enhancing the livelihoods of tribal farmers. By documenting the implementation of primary processing technologies and their role in improving the quality and profitability of spices and plantation crops, it provides a replicable model for sustainable rural development. The findings contribute valuable insights into the integration of traditional farming practices with modern machinery, demonstrating how targeted schemes like ICAR-Tribal Sub-Plan can bridge technological gaps and uplift marginalized communities. Additionally, it emphasizes the importance of localized solutions in achieving broader goals of food security, income generation, and socio-economic development.
