Please write a few sentences regarding the importance of this manuscript for the scientific community. A minimum of 3-4 sentences may be required for this part.	This manuscript provides valuable insights into the interplay between migration patterns and rural land occupation, using the Kourinion Commune in western Burkina Faso as a case study. By analyzing how migration influences land use dynamics, it contributes to a deeper understanding of rural development challenges in West Africa. The findings are critical for policymakers, development practitioners, and researchers seeking sustainable solutions to land management and demographic changes in similar contexts. Additionally, the study offers a foundation for further research into the socio-economic and environmental impacts of migration on rural landscapes.
