Is the manuscript scientifically, correct? Please write here.	The manuscript is scientifically correct. The algorithms used are site specific. Also good number of references have been provided.
Are the references sufficient and recent? If you have suggestions of additional references, please mention them in the review form.	Regarding the references, it would be good if some recent references are also added. Here I would specifically like to mention to use the Ecosystem markets 2024 edition to get the recent values of carbon credit. The work is good but if the price of the carbon credits is based on the latest rate then it would be good. Also, check the values in terms of ARR projects or REDD+ projects, whichever is suitable.
Is the language/English quality of the article suitable for scholarly communications?	Yes. It is good.
Optional/General comments	A good attempt and a good research. The values of the carbon credits should always be at par with the latest market value.
