

Editor's Comment:

You revise your manuscript according to the review comments.

- Firstly, the entire manuscript needs to follow the standard write up and preparation guidelines of this Journal. The authors are asked to check again the entire text and also the necessary alignments.
- The entire manuscript may need checking for Grammar, Punctuation and Conciseness.
- Introduction section: it must be well developed and should comprise the recent state-of-the-art/ research works published related to the aim of this paper; and also, Authors must express their opinion in the introduction part when citing the information.
- Format for the references/ Citation in the entire text of the manuscript must be revised according to the specified format of this Journal.
- Need to cite/ put the proper citation/ reference source for the texts in some of the places in this manuscript.
- Need to revise the reference numbering system.

The revised manuscript can be considered for publishing after addressing all the review comments, and we would be pleased to consider your paper for publication.
