

Editor's Comment:

In my opinion the authors did not take into account the comments and suggestions of the reviewers and they did not cover them in their biggest part. The revised manuscript has not improved significantly.

From the other hand, as I checked the manuscript (original and revised version) I observed the follows:

1. Generally the manuscript is poor and missing the originality and the contribution of this.
2. The survey sample is very limited (only 50) and except descriptive analysis the authors did not use any serious method or technique.
3. The section of methodology is poor and the section of discussion missing also.
