

Editor's Comment:

Though the work seems to be interesting and demonstrates practical importance there are some drawbacks. I have corrected several misprints indicating them by red color. Besides, to my opinion the authors should change the whole text and not to repeat in the text the values indicated in Tables. As far as I know it is forbidden. Besides Figures should be deleted as they repeat both the text values and values of the Tables. Furthermore, the conclusion is too large. It should be compact and should highlight the main results of the work. I should recommend major revision.
