

I would recommend the author to improve the scientific component of the paper.

Editor's Comment:

Methods should be explained in the separate Methodology section.

The findings should be summarized. A simple characteristic of plans one by one is not effective. The author should summarize major parameters, demonstrate how they evolve over time, distinguish differences and similarities between plans, show the qualitative evolution of the plans.

The discussion component should be improved by a critical discussion of the findings through the lens of previous research.
