

Editor's Comment:

I have gone through all reviewer comments and the final manuscript. My decision not to accept the current form of the manuscript. Although author has corrected most of the comments indicated by reviewers. There is a big lacking model understanding and analysis. I am suggesting making a framework (independent and dependent) because the author performed regression analysis with 4 independents and 1 dependent. Before performing regression the author must run an exploratory factor analysis (EFA) and then can run a regression. Please send this correction to the author for another time correction then it can be suitable for the journal otherwise it looks like a conference paper.
