

Editor's Comment:

The subject of the research is of practical interest and the manuscript is informative in this respect. However, in partial contradiction with the feedback-answers of the authors to Reviewers, only part of the justified recommendations of the Reviewers has been fully considered, in desirable sufficient details. Yet, appreciable partial efforts for improving the original manuscript have been undoubtedly carried out. The discussion of results, although ideally requiring some further improvements, is now better than in the original manuscript. And the persistent mixing of Results and Discussion (although not without reason criticized by one of the Reviewer as being an unusual practice) is not a serious drawback, at least in my opinion.

I finally consider that, as a whole, the revised manuscript, may be now accepted for publication in AJRAVS.
