

Editor's Comment:

Generally the manuscript looks acceptable. However, I have seen some mistakes. Although the authors said that they used multivariable analysis under "2.3: Statistical Analysis", I don't see anything of it in the result section. I think "Table 3" is concerned with the results of chi-squared analysis; not multivariable analysis. If they didn't perform any multivariable/multivariate analysis, remove it from the methodology section.

My decision is that the manuscript has been accepted to be published in the AJRID after making necessary corrections.
