

Editor's Comment:

Thank you so much for sending the reviewed manuscript (2021/ARRB/73548) entitled, "Effect of Replacing Bone Ash with Fresh Water Snail (Pila Ampullacea) Shell Ash on Serum Biochemical Indices of Weaned Rabbits" to me for taking a final decision. I am pleased to read the paper and found that the authors have made wonderful corrections based on the comments raised by the reviewers but there are some ways that the overall language can be improved. This has been evidenced, while I was checking the revised manuscript and found that there are still some places where the English language is not grammatically correct. In addition, the tables and references should need to be formatted according to the prescribed guidelines of the journal. Therefore, I accepted the paper for publication, pending some minor revisions as stated above.
