

Editor's Comment:

I strongly recommend to publish the paper in the present revised form. The reasons are as follows:

1. Some reviewers give comments such as “very promising work” or “well written”.
2. Some reviewers give minor revision comments. According to the comments, the authors have corrected the paper carefully.
3. In the Author's comment area, the authors give feedback appropriately.

Therefore, the paper has enough value for publication in the International Astronomy and Astrophysics Research Journal.
