

Editor's Comment:

I have seen the files relating to job 84753, including the first and second versions of the article.

I consider that the authors have acceptably changed the second version following the indications of the referees. However, Fig. 5 of the new version, which was Fig. 4 of the old one, still retains the watermark that one of the referees recommended removing.

Therefore, the article can already be published by modifying Fig. 5 of the second version, so that the watermark does not appear.
