For the above-mentioned paper:

Still, with the corrections done, in the Conclusions part no references are allowed, because there are the author's ideas, recommendations, findings.

Of course, it's about oil, the sole remarkable natural resource of Nigeria.

And, exactly as in other papers reviewed, the analysis regards an ascendent period, a boom or even a normal situation, that is until 2019.

It would be interesting if the author would point out a few lines regarding the situation of the production and export in Nigeria during the last two years of pandemics.

Generally speaking, it is ok.
