

Editor's Comment:

The article addresses a very important issue considering the rising poverty and unemployment levels among youth internationally. The paper was well structured and followed the right steps of scientific research. The reviewers were generally positive and recommended some minor revisions. The author has revised the manuscript but there are still a few minor typographical errors in the revised manuscript e.g. Abstract delete repeated word. Page 9 , 2.2 was be recruited. Apart from these, the paper is now ready for publication.
