

Editor's Comment:

This is basically a short review and evaluation paper which aims to examine the affects of lockdown and other COVID-19 pandemic protocols on the pre-existing socio-economic activities, conditions of livelihood of those in informal sector and entrepreneurs in Nigeria.

Within the stated scope of the paper, the author has presented the basic information to substantiate his arguments in its analytical part. The abstract of the paper is needed to be rewritten to reflect the basic objectives, methodology, analysis and conclusion parts of the paper. The author has to meticulously edit the paper as suggested by reviewer number 1 Dr. Mohsen Khosravi. The language of the paper is needed to improve correcting several grammatical mistakes.

The paper may be sent back to the author to revise it again as suggested. After proper incorporation of the above editorial inputs the paper may be published in ARJASS.
