

Editor's Comment:

The manuscript is looking much better now. I would only request the authors to check the first two references and change the authors' names to the proper ones - they can use the authors names in the actual article that was downloaded or use the organization name if it is a white paper for example - not a city in the US : Baltimore, MD which is what they have put as the author's name for those two references. Pending that I approve the manuscript for publication as appropriate.

Editor's Details:

Dr. Shankar Srinivasan
Professor, Rutgers - School of Health Professions, USA.