PART 1: Review Comments

	Reviewer’s comment	Author’s comment (if agreed with reviewer, correct the manuscript and highlight that part in the manuscript. It is mandatory that authors should write his/her feedback here)
Compulsory REVISION comments	The paper is written in an understandable style, easy to read for specialists in horticulture/agriculture or common people. The language is fluent and accessible, free from grammatical errors. Title it draw the interest of the reader. Clarity and brevity are important in a title; the detail can be covered in the body of the study. In general the abstract should provide a concise overview of the study: why it was undertaken, the methods used, a summary of the findings, and an indication of any implications. In this case the abstract is focus enough on the results and findings. So the Abstract is quite informative, it presents an important fact to persuade people to read article. The introduction presents the author’s argument, and it presents the information and sources used to support this research. The introduction provides the necessary background information and statement of the issue. Literature review is not up-to-date. The goal of paper is sufficiently explained. The research methodology for the study is appropriate and applied properly. Authors have included all the necessary information on samples and methods that would allow other researchers to replicate the experiments. The discussion answers the research problem posed based on the findings uncovered. The authors clearly explain the implications of the study for the field and its potential future applications. Also the authors discuss their results in the context of other published studies.	We are thankful to Reviewer for positive comments and appreciation for all sections of the manuscript to publish in the journal.
Minor REVISION comments	The section entitled References has some mistakes in written. Also the most of bibliographic titles are not recent; it will be better if the author introduce more recent bibliography titles (I found only four recent titles).	There is scarcity of information in recent experiment
Optional/General comments	Considering the needs and interests of a typical reader, in my opinion this article is adequate and I recommend it for publication, after minor revision.	We are thankful to Reviewer for positive comments
