Compulsory REVISION comments	Title: DETERMINATION OF FINANCIAL PERFORMANCE ON PREDICTION FINANCIAL DISTRESS I appreciate the chance to serve as a reviewer on this paper. The paper is well written and suits the scope of the issue. I believe that the paper could be of interest to an international audience since it deals with a very interesting topic. I recommend accepting the paper after minor revisions, so I urge the author(s) to consider the following comments and improve the paper accordingly. <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. It would be useful if the authors explain in detail how the market regulators benefit by their results.</li> <li>2. The authors should make a comparison of their methodology with other similar studies (see for instance Tsagkanos et al. 2008)</li> <li>3. What will be the economic implications in macro – level in business activity?</li> <li>4. I would like to see a precise sample how the investors can benefit by the results of this study.</li> <li>5. It would also be useful for the audience and future researchers if a guide for the future research is provided: how this research could be used concretely to open new pathways? Is it possible to provide some examples and possible directions for future research?</li> <li>6. The paper needs proofreading by a native English speaker</li> </ol> This is a good work and I think that a revised version with the abovementioned concerns could be a contribution to the literature. Literature Tsagkanos G.
