Presentation of these fundamental requirements will be an added value to the research.
Minor REVISION comments	The grammatical presentation is about average and should be looked into for necessary improvement. There is a need to revisit the citation method and some of the references made in references list for necessary adjustment.
Optional/General comments	The paper is generally above average with good presentation of analysis correctly interpreted and connected with the a priori stated. The paper is therefore recommended for publication after the necessary correction of observation noted therein.
