Compulsory REVISION comments	In abstract, explain why (relevance) the study was done, what is water borne Zinc, what was the exposure doses, what are the three groups, In introduction, explain what was the environment concentration of Zn. And the dose of exposure must be in and around that range. Materials methods: In section 2.2., provide probit analysis result. It is quite unscientific to take 8 mg/ml concentration if it was minimum total lethal conc. Provide the by flame atomic absorption spectrophotometry procedure. Some simple morphometric changes could also been measured. I am afraid of the conclusion as the energy content was higher in 83.41 ug/ml group. So, I guess Zn ad some positive effects in this group. Accordingly the result s must be written.
