The discussions of results on octahedral geometry should confirm the suggestions from the results of magnetic moments (Physical properties).3. TGA: The discussions on thermal analysis should be deepened especially with relevance of stability to the properties of the Sampled complexes (should a more stable complex be more adapted to the biological activity property or not?)4. Table 1. Complete the table with NA under the column for BM and molar conductivity of L15. The conclusion should indicate the importance of the stability factor of the complex to its biological activity,6. The use of doubtful or conditional phrases in a conclusion makes the opinion look weak. Please replace the work could with should be considered.7. The language of reporting should be consistent, please go through and react accordingly.
