Compulsory REVISION comments	Thank you for providing me the opportunity to review the paper recent precipitation patterns in West Africa. I enjoyed the piece and I found the paper to be well organized and very well written. The key references are cited, the abstract is informative, the length is fine, the methods are appropriate and innovative (a real strength for the paper), the graphics are publishable (more than publishable – they are very nice), and the results are interesting. I found the entire effort to be of the highest quality.
