Compulsory REVISION comments	The author(s) are concise and the paper is easily read and with interesting narrative. I would like the author(s) to address the following: Explanation about the time exposure of seeds and fish should be given. I am not convinced the exposure time given would be enough to make changes in regards to the growth or survival of these organisms. I was expecting similar approach in the experiment model as with the bacteria who were grown on medium containing the nanoparticles.
Minor REVISION comments	exchange "expressed as cm" with "values are expressed in cm. " "the growth of microorganisms was measured" please write more clear that you are not measuring the microorganisms as individual, but the growth of the colonies in cm.
