Compulsory REVISION comments	The manuscript presents quality to be accepted for publication, however, it suggests authors to restructure the material and methods to make it clearer. The manuscript needs to undergo a thorough review of English, I suggest AJE (https://www.aje.com/r/HFWNFF64). The introduction of the manuscript talks about the use of meteorological provisions for agriculture; however, the result and discussion need to insert more literature for the discussion correlated with the use of the results for agricultural purposes. Also, I made some suggestions for formatting. I recommend acceptance for publication after making the suggested corrections. English revision is essential.
