PART 1: Review Comments

	Reviewer's comment	Author's comment (if agreed with reviewer, correct the manuscript and highlight that part in the manuscript. It is mandatory that authors should write his/her feedback here)
Compulsory REVISION comments	Intercropping cultivation is a topical subject and has its great advantages in conditions of sustainable and organic production. The choice of crops is interesting - barley and sugar beet, and also the factors (N-levels and cuts). The conducted study is in-depth, multivariate (27 variants) and includes determining a number of traits and parameters – yield and yield components, quality, competitive relationships and aggressivity, land use ratio, economic evaluation. It should be emphasized that such experiments are very time consuming. All data obtained are well presented, thoroughly analyzed and in the light of previous studies. Overall, I give a high positive assessment of the article, but I have some questions and remarks that are indicated directly in the text.
