Compulsory REVISION comments
Minor REVISION comments	The article is relevant and well described, but needs some adjustments: In the abstract, it is important to mention the location of the lesion, as it only states that it is not usual and the reader, when consulting the abstract, needs to know what area it is. In the second paragraph of the discussion, it cannot be said that there is a predilection for the left side with so few cases, this has no basis. Finally, at the end of the discussion, the authors state that a long-term follow-up is necessary, but it is necessary to reinforce that, in this case, this is very importante, because there are teeth involved in the lesion that are in formation.
Optional/General comments
