Compulsory REVISION comments	<ul style="list-style-type: none">Go through the manuscript carefully and do the corrections highlighted in redModify the title to: The Effects of Methanolic Extracts of Three Plants on the Haematological Indices of Induced Preeclamptic Female Wistar RatsPut the first reference cited in your introduction section in numbering system
Minor REVISION comments	<ul style="list-style-type: none">The study chose to study effects of plant extracts on a rare complication of preeclampsia and not preeclampsia itself. Why?Does preeclampsia always lead to haematological problems?The study should show that the differences in the haematological indices of the induced preeclamptic rats were as a result of the preeclampsia and not a complication of it.Was HELLP syndrome diagnosed of the rats?
