Compulsory REVISION comments
Minor REVISION comments	A brief and comprehensive summary of the study parts needs clarification in the design of the experiment - I measured the fat, with a mention on the introduction level that onions are fat-free. The statistics on onion production in Africa must be correct. The ways and means are clear and simplified - Analyze and read the results in a simplified manner Discussing the results is rich in testimonies, while the greater lack of interest in comparing the varieties and highlighting the best from the nutritional or medical point of view - In references homogeneity in methodology
Optional/General comments
