Compulsory REVISION comments	Data seemed to be enough for international publication, although some lacked but overall was ok. Author has to focus the points recommended, especially Table 4 that data was difficult to explain, but could be modified. Author should be cautious that writing result with discussion was difficult and easily made confused. So, has to explain clearly point by point. Significantly, writing academic style should be clear and complete in each sentence. Other comments were shown in the manuscript, additionally, determination of treatment studied should be rationale resulting in clear explain or compare in result and discussion. For example, each recipe in this study contained different WWH, so finally it resulted in some data that could not be compared.
