Compulsory REVISION comments	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> The reviewer suggests the author to add various programs from the Nigerian government and Guma local government to address labor scarcity. This is to give the reader a deeper perspective on the agricultural labor scarcity in Nigeria. The author needs to explain table 2 more in depth, especially based on the respondents' answers and observations in the research area. This will be very interesting for readers and become the advantage of this manuscript. The author needs to explain table 3 more deeply, especially the impact value (quantitative) of labor scarcity. The author can give an example of one respondent (or as a whole) about how much rice production has decreased (and other impacts) due to labor scarcity. This is to show the reader about the negative effects of labor scarcity. The author needs to mention future research in the conclusion section.
Minor REVISION comments	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> The author needs to add data collection time in the methodology section The author needs to check the references section again because there are several citations have not been included in this section.
